Back to School in Buea

Retrospective terms of reference

Project date: Friday, 12 August 2022 • Place: Buea, South-West Region, Cameroon • School: The school we remember as Buea Regional Secondary School

Why we chose this project

We wanted children to begin the school year with useful learning materials and encouragement. Our team asked around in the community and visited schools to understand where support was most needed. We noticed children without adequate school bags, books or clothing. From our conversations and observations, the needs at this school appeared greater than at others nearby.

We chose the school deliberately. People gave their time, money and effort, and we wanted that support to reach children in need. Providing books, pens and bags was one way to share the love of Jesus and support their everyday learning.

Who the project was intended to support

The project was intended to support students facing a shortage of essential learning materials, selected with the school's help. Its scope was school materials and encouragement, including books and exercise books, school bags, pens and other school materials. Clothing was an observed need, not a recalled distributed item. The report records 40 students reached.

How we prepared and who was involved

Our team visited the principal in advance, explained why we wanted to come, obtained permission and signed the school register for the planned visit. Teachers gathered the students in a classroom and helped with distribution.

Our usual approach is to let the school identify children who need support across classes, because teachers know their students. Our team handles coordination, purchasing and delivery; school staff help organize and distribute.

Our approach to the gathering

We welcome the students and teachers, offer Christian encouragement and share materials with the school's help. Our usual programme allows about three hours for the opening, worship, Bible reading, prayer and distribution. This describes our usual format, not a timed record of this particular visit. Assistance is available regardless of participation in prayer or worship.

Resources and reporting basis

The report details 220,000 FCFA sent, 205,000 FCFA reported spending and a balance remaining in our accounts of 15,000 FCFA after the project.

Document basis: Prepared some time after the project was carried out, using our team's account and available records. This is not an original pre-project authorization. The date and remembered school name have not been independently checked. Children's names and photographs are excluded.
