Care shaped by listening

On Saturday, 12 March 2022, we visited widows in their homes in Muea, Buea, following International Women's Day. This was practical care expressed through our team's time, the resources entrusted to us and attention to what the women themselves needed. We reached approximately 20 widows. We do not present that recalled figure as a verified register or assume that every woman received an identical package.

How we prepared

Our team asked around in the community and through churches to identify women facing particular need. We spoke with the women, sought permission to visit and listened to their circumstances. Our leaders brought the information back for discussion so that we could agree on arrangements and prepare a relevant shopping list. This needs-led process mattered: supplies were selected to help with daily life, not simply to fill a standard gift bag.

Practical care and encouragement

What happened during the visits

We purchased supplies and organised home-to-home delivery. The approach was to keep supplies nearby, carry what was needed to one home, then return for the next delivery. We greeted each host, offered encouragement, read the Bible and prayed before leaving the goods. The support was goods only, not cash assistance. Women expressed their thanks during the visits. We do not turn those expressions of gratitude into a claim of measured long-term change.

What we provided

The recalled categories were African fabric wrappers (rapa), rice and other foodstuffs, groundnut oil, red oil, salt, soap, buckets and bags. Requested pharmacy items, including eye drops, were also part of the account. The account describes prior medical advice for those purchases; this outreach was not a medical consultation, and this report makes no treatment or health-outcome claim. No recipient's clinical details are disclosed.

Faith, dignity and reflection

Christian encouragement was part of our visit, not a condition for receiving help. Assistance was available whether or not someone joined prayer or worship. Our normal practice after an outreach is to meet as a team and discuss what went well, timing and what should improve. No project-specific debrief minutes or measured follow-up outcomes are presented here.

Reporting basis: Prepared some time after the project was carried out, using our team's account and available working files. This retrospective account is not an independently audited statement. The financial page explains which amounts are recalled or established.

Financial account

March 2022 | Amounts in FCFA (XAF)

Funding and recalled use

We recall about 220,000 FCFA sent for the outreach, with 5,000 FCFA for withdrawal and about 10,000 FCFA for transport. The remainder was used to buy goods. These figures come from our account, not inspected transfer records or receipts.

Financial measure	Amount and basis
Funds sent	About 220,000 - recalled
Withdrawal	5,000 - recalled operating cost
Transport	About 10,000 - recalled operating cost
Implied amount for goods	About 205,000 - derived from recalled figures, not an independently established expenditure total
Balance remaining in our accounts	Not established

What the funds provided

We provided African fabric wrappers (rapa), rice and other foodstuffs, groundnut oil, red oil, salt, soap, buckets and bags. Requested pharmacy items, including eye drops following prior medical advice, were also recalled. Individual purchase prices and quantities are not established. The detailed table on page 4 shows reconstructed category allocations, not verified payments or unit prices.

Understanding the balance

The recalled funding less recalled operating costs gives an approximate goods amount of 205,000 FCFA. This calculation does not independently establish what each purchase cost or prove a zero closing balance. Support was in goods only: withdrawal was a project operating cost, not cash given to widows. No figure in this report is today's mobile-money balance.

Supporting records

Withdrawal refers to the cost of taking the project funds out as cash. No receipt-backed expenditure schedule was available for this report. Proposed category prices are not recorded here as payments. The account may be updated if further records or a more precise account become available. Recipient numbers do not establish identical packages or a standard cost per person.

Detailed financial allocation

March 2022 | Reconstructed allocation | Amounts in FCFA

The detailed schedule allocates the working total across the materials and operating costs discussed for this project. The figures are reconstructed allocations, not independently verified payments. No item quantities or unit prices have been inferred.

Category	FCFA	Basis
African fabric wrappers (rapa)	45,000	Reconstructed allocation
Rice	40,000	Reconstructed allocation
Other foodstuffs	30,000	Reconstructed allocation
Groundnut oil	20,000	Reconstructed allocation
Red oil	15,000	Reconstructed allocation
Soap	10,000	Reconstructed allocation
Buckets	15,000	Reconstructed allocation
Bags	15,000	Reconstructed allocation
Salt	5,000	Reconstructed allocation
Pharmacy items including eye drops	10,000	Reconstructed allocation
Goods subtotal	205,000	Reconstructed allocation
Transport	10,000	Recalled cost used in reconstruction
Withdrawal fees	5,000	Recalled cost used in reconstruction
Operating subtotal	15,000	Reconstruction
Total allocation	220,000	Working total, not verified payments

The table uses the recalled working figures of 220,000 FCFA funding, 10,000 FCFA transport and 5,000 FCFA withdrawal. Its 205,000 FCFA goods allocation is a reconstruction, not an independently established purchase total. Fully allocating the working amount does not prove that the balance remaining in our accounts was zero.

Other foodstuffs excludes rice, oils and salt listed separately. Pharmacy items are a recalled goods category; no medicine quantity, recipient or treatment outcome is inferred.

The detailed allocation does not establish identical packages or a standard cost per recipient. No figure represents the current balance across our accounts.
