

ADA Anti-Fraud and Gift Integrity Summary

ADA Anti-Fraud and Gift Integrity Summary

Organization: Apoti Development Association (ADA)

Registration: N° 415/G.37/D14/VolI/SAAJP

Last updated: May 2026

Purpose

This summary explains how ADA protects donor funds, avoids conflicts of interest, and handles restricted gifts responsibly.

Core commitments

ADA prohibits:

- Bribery or improper payments
- Misappropriation of funds
- Falsification of records
- Undisclosed conflicts of interest in procurement or program delivery
- Use of restricted gifts outside the confirmed purpose

Gift review

ADA may decline, pause, return, or request additional information about a gift if the source, purpose, restrictions, sponsor identity, or payment path cannot be responsibly verified.

Conflict of interest

Team members, volunteers, and board members should disclose personal, family, business, or financial interests that could affect procurement, beneficiary selection, or program decisions.

Documentation

Project expenses should be supported by budgets, receipts, invoices, signed attestations, distribution lists, field notes, or reports where appropriate.

Reporting concerns

Concerns may be reported to info@apotidev.org with the subject line “Gift Integrity” or “Anti-Fraud Concern.”

Published by ADA for sponsor and donor review.
